

A 60-SECOND CHECK

5 signs your business isn't ready for AI

From the 10-question framework we use with growing companies — before they spend a dollar.

01

You can name the tool you want — but not the problem it solves.

"We need AI" is not a problem statement. Which cost, delay, error, or customer pain — and how often?

02

Your core process lives in one person's head.

If it isn't written down, you can't automate it — you can only automate the chaos around it.

03

The same customer exists three times, in three systems.

AI runs on your data. Scattered and inconsistent in — scattered and inconsistent out, faster.

04

Nobody would own it after it goes live.

"Everyone's job" is nobody's job. Unowned systems quietly rot — and AI is never set-and-forget.

05

Success means "it feels faster."

No baseline, no number, no keep-or-kill line. If you can't measure it, you can't defend it.

THE GOOD NEWS

AI doesn't fix these. It amplifies them. Find yours first.
